

375BC

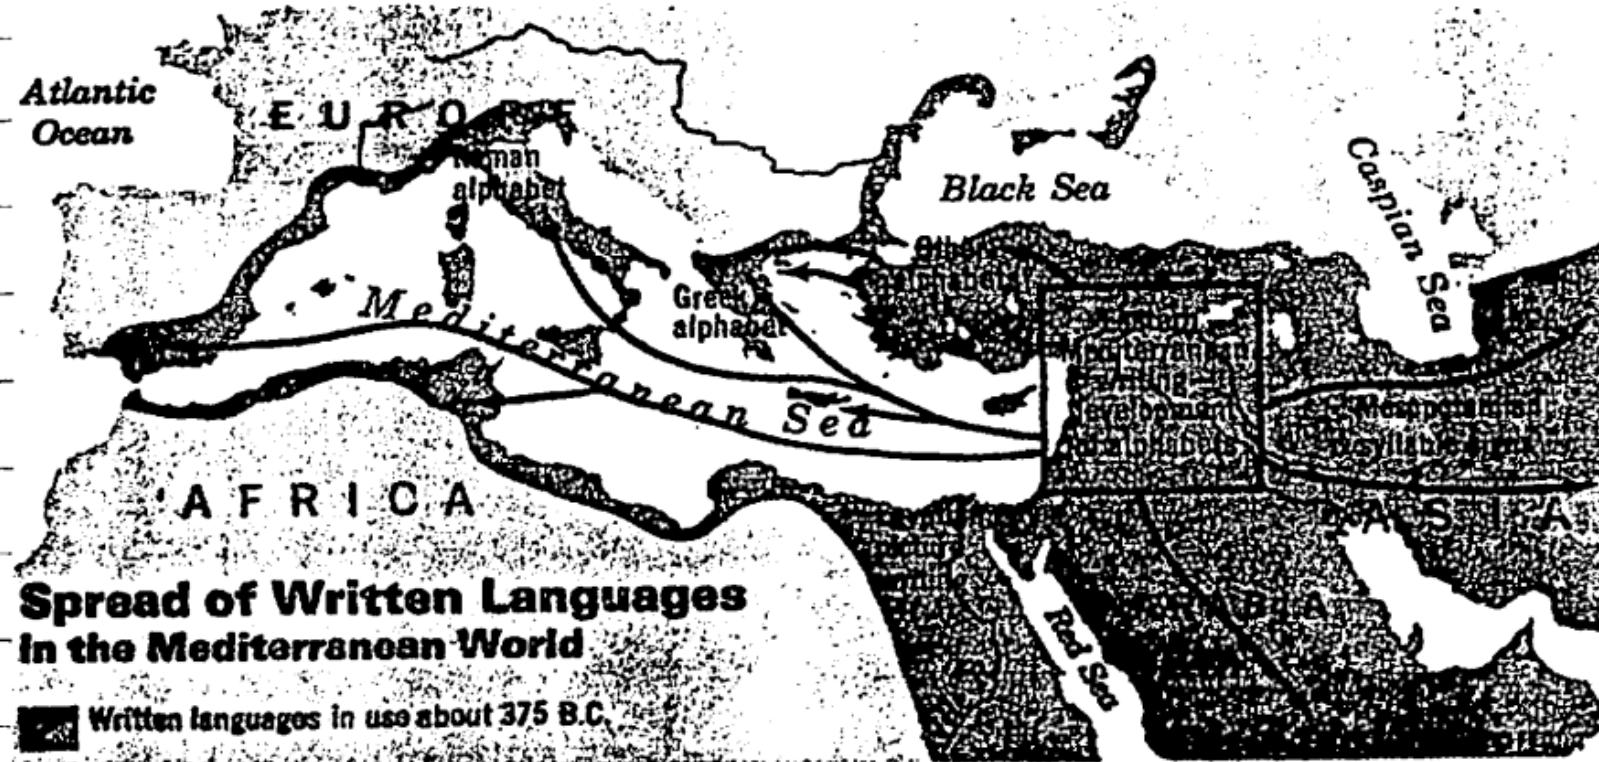

THEAETETUS, mathematician

375 BC

The Republic
The Philosophical dialogue
in which Socrates guides thought toward meaning of justice and ideal
State, by ancient Greek philosopher - PLATO.

375 BC

WRITTEN LANGUAGES

LICINIUS

375BC

CAIUS LICINIUS CALVUS STOLO

Was tribune of the people with LUCIUS SEXTIUS. Roman historians attributed to him a number of laws, but most of these were probably made at a later date. These laws - the LICINIAN REGULATIONS provided a strict limitation on the amount of public land that one person might hold and on the amount of livestock that one could graze on public land. They included also a strict regulation of the collection of debts, and, most significant politically,

they ordained that ONE CONSUL MUST BE PLEBEIAN. It is said that LICINIUS STOLI was later fined for violating his own law on the possession of public land.

375 BC

Spartans beaten at Sparta by Pelopidas.